TheImpossible for Me

so what is this project all about ?

this project is all about making myself out of this shit which im in the middle class family && all other things but why im not doing things??

1. saw a video of brayn yesterday where he builded his own laptop from scratch
2. one of my biggest mistake of all the time if i see a thing that is cooler than what im doing than im going to be shift to that thing and going to leave this thing until and unless it more imp than ever here you can see up there i said he made he own laptop from scratch its not necessary that everyone should do that but somehow in me its like why i cant its because of money (the answer is yes) but my mind is like than what are you doing ? make some money than and again back on that loop how ? is it from the things i learned should i write a blog on that should i do some research and make vids ahhh thats it so im in this rabbit hole all the Ai news and all im into cybersecurity also there is this connection of things with the coding what ever i like it related to coding lets say im into cyber security i have to learn coding and all its just my brain saying that in 2025 you are going to start with coding ?? now i realised starting something is hard now i know i saw lot of this things online but this thing hitted me so hard i feeled so much pressure on my self that i thought where the hell im and why i havent done anything ?? why ?

little about an hour i figured it out that im broke doing the diploma in mechanical engineering not from well reputed clg but not that low level also so i havnt done so many things in life but done kinda things like joined the SEA CADET CORPS completed the 4years traning fun and learning and all ## here the comes the downfall covid hits im in my 9th grade second last after 10th you graduate from the highschool

this 9th&10th grade gone in the covid did ntg nor my frnds did anything that time i dont got anything not a phone not a laptop ntg dont know about shit

this is the exact time ppl where hustling you know passed my 10th grade from the highschool with a 72% not good at all because all my frinds got above 80% i got 80 because you know bad at everything and this percentage was depended on the 9th grade so you know told myself its ok moved forward ## here comes the most biggest downfall ever got an addmission in the clg took the mechincal engg barely know anyhting realted to maths anyhting just got the addmission in there going to clg coming homes

1st sem was online got 82 % obv cheated in the online exam

here it comes

2nd sem failed in 3 subjects dont know shit still not doing studies and all playing games and all

3rd sem again failed in 4 subjects maybe this shit hits hards now going to classes and all finally in 4th cleared all the subjects but maths remains uncleared yes

and i took the biggest wrong decision of my life ### i took the drop from clg

((yes for one subject because there is this thing)) the subject was from the 1 year and the rule is if you didnt cleared the 1st year subect you are not getting into the final

took the drop and all in the drop bought a laptop knows nothing at least 8 months did nothing on it just watched the youtube vids and learned solid works 3d software thats it nothing else and i was sick i got asthama from my mom gene so i got medicine and all wasted 2-3 months here comes my goggins mode on i started watching goggins (sir) i was so obbsseed with the sir i decided to run the boy who got asthama is taking a decision to run who cant even walk fast anyway maned it up and all first day at 5am on the highway just about 500meters im done stopped there reminded me of the sir goggins story that quarter mile one i said no im gonna complete it (i ran that day 8km at pace 13 fainted on the four lane highway vomited(puked all over) still going not stopping finally i completed my first run ) continued this thing about an 3 months #gotacurse suddenly one day on my butt there is a thing i call ring worms ignored it and all going for running and all fully ignoring it suddenly increases it over my thighs over my whole butt doctor said you can run because the sweat and all is staying there u have to stay dry at that time it was summer it was 145f 55 degreee C it was fucking hot and im running in that wwather stopped running this M.F ring worm stayed 6months wasted my 6th months i was preparing for marathon which is going to be in jan 2025 lost it clg is started again its 5th sem going pretty well and all but i feel there is something which is not going as per my plan not im not doing extra things and all so i did organised a event with my prof. i was head co-ordinator did all the work atleast 60% u can say among all the co-ordinators i did more it was good my prof. is like u worked a lot now im a good working guy in front of my prof.

so i asked one day to my prof. that i wanna see your PhD project he said lets goo gone there worked there again asked gone again worked there he is also happy that i got a interest in these things and all so after this 5th sem final exam hitted did my best after this exam got a news from my mother that we are going to be homeless yea you read that write bro a sudden change the thing is the home we are living in is on my grandmother behalf and she is no more but the my father biggest brother is kinda greedy and he is like i wanna control all the things in the home becasue he is in the bank and knows everything and all so yeah thats how it works lets see what will happpen my mentality is keep going one if someone points a gun at you there a 146 way to get out -- harvey spector so you know so what is this project ?? again ?

its all about the research and making things on social media and all soon gonna post it on youtube a short flim

- sorry if any grammer mistakes are there in this post - english is not my frist language
